1. The White Horse, Cilcain

Tel: 01352 740142 Postcode: CH7 5NN

Peter and Chris Jeory have run the White Horse since 1977 and take pride in providing a fine hostelry with a traditional country pub atmosphere. Open fires greet visitors in the winter months, there is a choice of real ales, and a regular bar menu is supplemented by a specials board that changes each week.

The White Horse has a plaque commemorating its appearance in the film Hilary and Jackie, the story of the late cellist Jacqueline du Pré, who holidayed near Cilcain.

How to get there (7 miles and 10 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Turn right towards Mold at the bottom of the hill. After 4 miles take the right turn signposted to Cilcain. The road ends in the village at a T junction, where you turn right to find the pub immediately on your right.

2. The Craft Centre, Afonwen

www.afonwen.co.uk Tel: 01352 720965 Postcode: CH7 5UB

www.edenshine.co.uk Tel: 01352 720797 (restaurant)

This business combines an antique centre, a crafts and gift shop, and a restaurant.

The centre offers the chance to view various arts and crafts of Welsh culture, including jewellery, antiques, silk flowers, traditional pine furniture, and much more. There is a wide selection of outdoor clothing and accessories such as purses, wallets and bags.

The licensed restaurant offers everything from morning coffee and afternoon tea to a multi-course lunch menu. It is not open in the evening.

How to get there (0.5 miles and 5 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go down to the bottom of the hill and turn very sharp right before the A541.

3. Manorhaus Restaurant

www.manorhaus.com Tel: 01824 707333 Postcode: LL15 1AH

Manorhaus is one of our favourite places to eat on a special occasion. It is a boutique-style townhouse restaurant and gallery with rooms in a Georgian Grade II listed building in the centre of Ruthin.

The restaurant offer freshly prepared, high quality food, bringing together contemporary tastes and the finest local ingredients.

It is usually necessary to make a reservation.

How to get there (15 miles and half an hour from GwenoIdy):

A lovely early evening drive as the sun sets: go down the hill to the craft centre and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). Park in the centre of Ruthin. Manorhaus is on Well Street (LL15 1AH).

4. The Black Lion, Babel

Tel: 01352 720239 Postcode: CH8 8PZ

The Black Lion is a fine example of a local pub which takes the serving of food just as seriously as the serving of good beers and wines. It is quite close, but gives the sense of an outing and, being set high in the countryside which surrounds us, offers exceptional views. Best to make a reservation at busy times.

How to get there (3 miles and 10 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go down the hill, turn left then quickly sharp right (signposted Babel). Follow the road up the hill to a T junction where you turn right. Follow the road round a left hand bend towards Babel and the Black Lion is on your right.

5. Hot Wok, Mold

Tel: 01352 755575 Postcode: CH7 1LA

If oriental food takes your fancy, we can recommend the Hot Wok in Mold. We have enjoyed not only items from their a la carte menu but also their fixed banquet meals. We used to live near the Curry Mile in Rusholme, Manchester, and missed spicy food when we first moved here in 2005. Then we found the Hot Wok.

How to get there (9 miles and 20 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Turn right at the bottom of the hill, drive to Mold, turn right at the first big roundabout and park in the car park alongside the Hot Wok in King Street.

6. Pwll Gwyn, Afonwen

www.pwll-gwyn.co.uk Tel: 01352 720227 Postcode: CH7 5UB

Traditional, and cosy, the Pwll Gwyn is the nearest pub to Gwenoldy. It offers good home cooking and a wide variety of real ales. The staff aim to provide a warm welcome and excellent service; great seasonal, locally sourced food; and a family-friendly environment providing facilities to entertain children and ensure parents can relax.

How to get there (0.5 mile and 5 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go down the hill, turn left, and the PG is 300 yards on the right.

7. The Leyland Arms, Llanelidan

www.leylandarms.co.uk Tel: 01824 750822 Postcode: LL15 2PT

This is a great country pub in an exquisitely beautiful village. It is run by a man with years of experience in the catering business for the benefit of the local community and visitors, and the drinks and food on offer have impressed us on every visit. We think it's well worth a drive out, not least because the scenery on the way is beautiful, too.

How to get there (20 miles and 35 minutes from Gwenvoldy):

Turn left at the bottom of the hill to Denbigh, then the A543 and A525. From Ruthin take the A494, then local signs to Llanelidan.

8. The Red Lion, Llanasa

Tel: 01745 854291 Postcode: CH8 9NE

This is a small country pub serving good food and drink in a picture-postcard village.

How to get there (8 miles and 15 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go straight across the A55 at junction 31 north of Caerwys and take the left turn at the roundabout towards Prestatyn (A5151). Follow local signs to the right to Llanasa.

9. Glasfryn, Mold

www.glasfryn-mold.co.uk Tel: 01352 750500 Postcode: CH7 6LR

This is a usually busy pub that draws from far and wide. You'll find an interesting mix of locals – farmers, local businessmen, young couples, retired people, regulars, market goers: there's always an interesting buzz about the place, and locals and visitors alike seem to rub along very happily.

It's also the local for Theatr Clwyd – see their excellent programme of plays and films at www.clwyd-theatr-cymru.co.uk or ring the Box Office on 0845 330 3565.

There is a wide-ranging food menu as well as a variety of beers and wines.

How to get there (11 miles and 20 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Turn right at the bottom of the hill and take the A541 to Mold. Follow signs for Queensferry, then, after half a mile, left to County Hall. The Glasfryn is on the left.

10. The Cross Foxes, Nannerch

Tel: 01352 741293 Postcode: CH7 9RD

Situated in an attractive small village, The Cross Foxes is an interesting 18th century pub. Check days and times if you are interested in eating there.

How to get there (3.5 miles and 10 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Turn right at the bottom of the hill and take the A541 towards Mold. Follow local signs on the right to Nannerch.

Moorhens nest on Ysgeifiog Lakes
Bydd yr iâr ddŵr yn nythu ar lynnoedd Ysgeifiog

Caerwys – Ysgeifiog

Caerwys

Peaceful Caerwys is reputedly the smallest town in Wales, granted a Royal Charter by Edward I, and once one of the three most important towns in Flintshire! It was at the hub of drovers routes and its livestock markets were renowned.

Ysgeifiog

17th century Ysgeifiog was a busy village situated on the main road from Chester to Denbigh. Packhorses, laden carts and stage coaches all regularly passed through.

Ysgeifiog lakes are man-made, created by the Earl of Denbigh in 1904 for fishing. Look for nesting coots, moorhens and mallard or dragonflies skimming the water in summer.

Caerwys

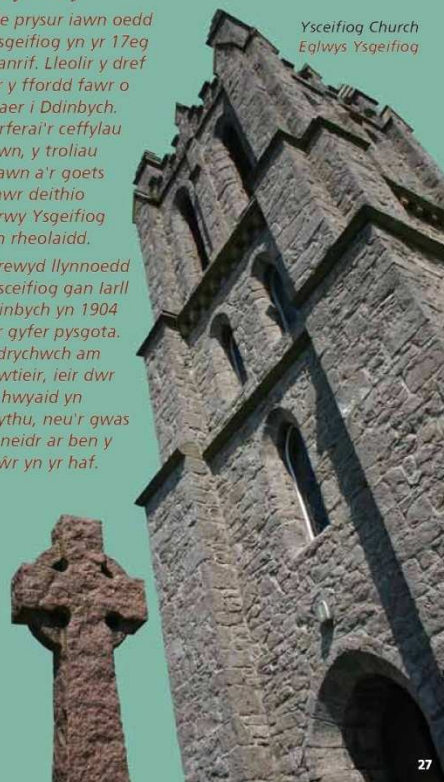

Caerwys yw tref leiaf Cymru. Derbyniodd Siarter Frenhinol oddi wrth y brenin Iorwerth I. Ar un cyfnod roedd hi'n un o dair tref bwysicaf Sir y Fflint, yn ganolbwynt ffyrdd y porthmyn a'i marchnadoedd da byw yn rhai enwog iawn.

Ysgeifiog

Lle prysur iawn oedd Ysgeifiog yn yr 17eg ganrif. Lleolir y dref ar y ffordd fawr o Gaer i Ddinbych. Arferai'r ceffylau pwn, y troliau llawn a'r goets fawr deithio drwy Ysgeifiog yn rheolaidd.

Crewyd llynnoedd Ysgeifiog gan Iarl Dinbych yn 1904 ar gyfer pysgota. Edrychwch am gwtieir, ieir dwr a hwyaid yn nythu, neu'r gwas y neidr ar ben y dŵr yn yr haf.

The Walk

1. From car park (with Moel Arthur behind) turn L along road. After 250m take track on R, crossing stile by gate, with forest on L. Continue along this track, skirting base of hill and through another gate. Pass byway signed on L but continue ahead along track.

Continue as path becomes a metalled lane. At crossroads continue ahead along lane, gradually descending hill into village.

At T junction turn R opposite Hafod y Foel. Take first R before church and continue down lane to pumping station.

2. Turn R along bridleway (BW) by pumping station. After 325m turn L up another BW, passing Cae Newydd cottage on R. Turn R along another BW between fields. Through gate & stile, passing reservoir on L.

Continue ahead through kissing gate (KG), following natural path. Cross small stream and continue ahead uphill. Then follow steep zig-zagging path to path crossroads.

If you wish to visit Moel Famau summit, at path crossroads continue ahead with conifers on L.

At summit turn R along ODP for approx 1 km to meet main route where it joins ODP from R.

3. Turn R at crossroads along BW that skirts around summit. At path fork bear R and continue to stile.

4. Over stile and turn R joining Offa's Dyke Path (clearly waymarked with acorn symbol). Follow ODP along ridge for approx 3 km, continuing ahead where path to Llangynhafal and Cilcain crosses your route. When Moel Arthur is directly ahead, follow ODP down steep steps and cross stile onto road.

Moorland Wildlife

Heather and bilberry thrive on the poor upland soils.

Rabbits, mice and voles live in the rough grass, providing food for birds of prey.

Look for buzzards soaring high, smaller hovering kestrels and fast flying merlins. In summer there's a constant twitter of birdsong as small birds flit amongst the heather – mostly pipits and wheatears but occasional skylarks. Listen too for stonechats – a sound like two pebbles being tapped together. The nationally rare Black grouse breeds on the moorland. The heather is cut and burned to ensure there are young shoots for the grouse to feed and older woody heather for shelter.

Mae'r grug a'r llus yn ffynnu ar bridd gwael y mynydd. Mae'r cwningod, y llygod a'r llygod y dŵr sy'n byw yn y glaswellt garw, yn fwyd i'r adar ysglyfaethus. Edrychwch am y bwncathod yn hedfan yn uchel yn yr awyr, y cudyll coch llai yn hofran a'r cudyll bach cyflym. Yn yr haf clywir trydar yr adar wrth iddynt wibio ymysg y grug – corhedydd y waun a thinwen y garn ran fwyaf, ond yr ehedydd yntau weithiau. Gwrandewch am lais clegar y cerrig, sy'n swnio fel dwy garreg yn taro yn erbyn ei gilydd. Mae'r rugiar ddu, sy'n brin ym Mhrydain, yn magu ar y rhostiroedd hyn. Moel Arthur – Cilcain

Cilcain

This picturesque village once had 7 pubs, serving the drovers bringing their herds across the hills to English markets. The wide sunken lanes that criss-cross the surrounding hills may have been drovers' roads.

Moel Arthur is one of a string of Iron Age hillforts on the Clwydian Range.

The Offa's Dyke National Trail follows the crest of the Clwydian Range ridge on its route from Prestatyn to Chepstow (177 miles).

Cilcain

Ar un adeg roedd 7 o dafarndai yn y pentref tlws hwn yn gwasanaethu'r porthmyn oedd yn gyrru'u hanifeiliaid dros y moelydd i farchnadoedd Lloegr. Efallai mai ffyrdd porthmyn yw'r llwybrau llydan suddedig sy'n frith ar hyd y brynau.

The Walk

1. From Moel Arthur car park (with cattle grid on R) turn R along lane for 275m. Near start of small wood on R, turn L through gate and head up track. After 200m cross stile/gate marked "Penbedw". After short climb track levels then descends. Continue for about 1km to gate/stile. Go diagonally L across field towards LH edge of pine plantation. Continue along plantation edge to gate. Continue on track towards another gate beside derelict cottage.
2. Turn L before gate and go up slope for 50m then turn diagonally L across large field, heading to gate in far LH corner. Thro' gate & follow RH fenceline to cross another stile by 2 gates. Walk ahead across next field to cross another gate/stile. Follow RH field boundary then turn R at marker post crossing stile & heading down steep slope. Go thro' gate between buildings, cross stile and turn R down drive. Go thro' gate and continue to road.
3. Cross road and go thro' gate by finger post into field opposite. Continue along LHS of field crossing small stream to visible stile. Cross stile and 2nd stream. Walk up slope to stile, initially hidden from view. Cross stile & continue uphill for 20m then go thro' gate on L (ignore nearby stile). Turn R and follow RH fence uphill to stile. Cross stile & continue along RH fence, ignoring gate on R before house. Cross stile at far end of field and continue ahead, past stile, down sunken lane to disused wooden shack. Go around back of shack to cross stile then down steep slope to stream. Cross footbridge and stile at end then follow RH fence to stile & gate (fence no longer exists here). Continue ahead up slope, crossing grassy path with gate on L. Continue over stile ahead. Walk up slope, keeping to LH fenceline, passing gate on LHS. Continue along fenceline heading towards stile with large yellow disc, below stone ruin.

4. Cross stile and follow path with old stone wall on R (can be muddy). Pass ruin on RHS and continue along path keeping old wall on RHS. Cross stile and continue ahead, still following wall. After next gate/ stile follow obvious track diagonally R towards TV mast. Go thro' further gate and follow RH field boundary to gate onto track. Turn L along track. Pass farm on R.

13 (b). Moel Arthur and Penycloddiau

Moel Arthur – Penycloddiau

5. Before lane turns sharply R, turn L over stile by gate, with Scot's pines on L. You are now on Offa's Dyke Path (marked by white acorns) that you follow for rest of walk. Turn L and follow path uphill, climbing steadily. Cross stile dedicated to Arthur Roberts and continue along path finally ascending some steps to summit of Penycloddiau (superb 360° views). Continue ahead for approx 800m then cross stile. Turn L and follow narrow path down hillside, with trees on R. At junction turn L and go thro' gate into small car park.

6. Turn R onto lane. After 25m turn L at finger post. Cross stile and follow steep path uphill. Continue ahead, crossing 2 more stiles, then follow obvious route through heather for about 1km, skirting around LHS of Moel Arthur to return to car park, or detouring R if desired at slate waymarker to summit of Moel Arthur.

Moel Arthur and Penycloddiau are two of a string of Iron Age hillforts built along the Clwydian Range around 2500 years ago. The remains of large earth and stone banks which surrounded the settlements can still be seen, now clad in heather and bilberry. These banks were probably crowned with a wooden fence giving extra protection to the wooden roundhouses within, and with elaborate gateways that may have helped control supplies going in and out.

Penycloddiau is one of the largest hillforts in Wales. Its banks are 2 km in circumference! Recently 40 possible hut platforms (where roundhouses were built) have been found. Moel Arthur is much smaller but on a much steeper hilltop and the enclosing banks are visible from miles away. These hillforts may have been used before the Iron Age – Bronze Age axes, about 3,500 years old, have been found at Moel Arthur.

Adeiladwyd Moel Arthur a Phenycloddiau, dwy fryngaer mewn cadwyn o Fryngegydd Oes yr Haearn, tua 2500 o flynyddoedd yn ôl ar hyd cefn Bryniau Clwyd.

Gallwch weld olion y cloddiau mawr o bridd a cherig a godwyd o gwmpas yr anheddiad. Grug a llus y mynydd sy'n eu gorchuddio erbyn hyn. Yn ôl pob tebyg, roedd ffens bren ar ben y cloddiau hyn gan ddiogelu'r tai pren, crwn oddi mewn; ac efallai y bu yma byrth cain er mwyn rheoli'r nwyddau oedd yn cael eu cludo i mewn ac allan o'r gaer.

Un o fryngegydd mwyaf Cymru yw Penycloddiau, a chylchedd y cloddiau'n ddau gilometr. Yn ddiweddar, darganfuwyd yma ddeugain o lwyfannau y tybir iddynt fod yn llwyfannau cytiau.

Caer lai o lawer yw Moel Arthur, ond yn serthach. Gwelir pen y bryn a'r cloddiau o gwmpas o bell. Daethpwyd o hyd i fwyelli oes yr Efydd (tua 3500 o flynyddoedd yn ôl) ar Foel Arthur gan awgrymu bod pobl yn defnyddio'r bryngegydd hyn cyn oes yr Haearn.

The Walk

- From Gwaenysgor car park, turn L and descend 200m down road. At sharp L bend turn R onto path along woodland edge. Cross stile into field and follow LH boundary for 20m then cross stile. Follow LH field edge uphill. Turn R in corner and then L over stile. Continue half-L across field and over stile. Continue across field with transmitter on R. Cross stile and go half-L across arable field to cross stile onto track.
- Cross track and climb over stile into field opposite. Bear L across field and follow LH boundary beside woodland. Cross stile and continue across next field. Cross 2 stiles close together at woodland edge and cross field ahead. Cross next stile* and follow narrow path skirting overgrown pond on R.
For short cut 'a', omitting Llanasa, turn R before stile and follow fence past overgrown pond on L. Then cross stile on L and follow waymarkers downhill across fields to road.*
- At path junction turn R, ignoring stile ahead. Continue along this path, bearing L beyond pond and follow for approx 1.4km (can be muddy). Turn R onto wide track and follow for 600m to road. At road turn R, passing 17thC Henblas Hall on L, and continue to road junction in centre of Llanasa.
- Turn R in front of Red Lion, signed

Gwaenysgor/Trelawnyd, passing village pump and pond. Continue along road for 1.5km, passing lane on LHS and entrance to Talfryn Farm. At next road junction turn L. Where lane bends L cross stile on R marked Gop Hill. Continue ahead up field and cross stile. Ignore first KG & stone stile on R heading into wood. Continue ahead to cross KG/stone stile in corner signed Gop Hill, ignoring more obvious KG/stile in front.

- Follow permissive path (white arrow) bearing L along woodland edge. Path soon rises gently through wood, before rejoining boundary. (Snowdonia visible westwards). Continue along wood edge, soon swinging half-R thro' trees and follow path across summit cairn on Gop Hill (wide views).
Return down path and, after a few metres, drop down R to go thro' KG. Head diagonally L to descend slope. After 50m turn R to rocky outcrop with cave below. After visiting the cave retrace your steps and descend to faint green track across mid-slopes of Gop Hill. Follow this track R passing above farm buildings and stone dovecote, before swinging R to cross stile at bottom of wood. Go ahead over another stile, then down middle of large field, bearing L towards road, passing telegraph pole, to cross stile ahead. Cross next field and stile in corner onto road.
- Follow road R into Gwaenysgor. (NB Busy

Llanasa was founded around the church of the second Bishop of St Asaph. Many people who drowned in the nearby Dee Estuary are buried here, including the crew of the Point of Ayr lifeboat who drowned on 4th January 1854 in heavy seas.

Gop Hill gives superb views, ranging from Blackpool Tower to the mountains of Snowdonia. Legend associates the large Bronze Age cairn (14 metres high and 100 metres wide) on the summit with Queen Boadicea's final resting place but excavations revealed no evidence of burials. Below the summit is a small cave where the remains of 14 Neolithic people buried in a crouched position were found.

Gwaenysgor is an ancient settlement, whose 12thC Church of St Mary Magdalene stands on an important pre-Roman religious site, denoted by its circular churchyard.

Sefydlwyd Llanasa o gwmpas eglwys ail Esgob Llanelwy. Claddwyd nifer o bobl a foddwyd yn aber yr Afon Ddyfrdwy yn y fynwent hon, gan gynnwys criw Cwch Achub y Parlwr Du a foddodd ar 4 Ionawr 1854 mewn môr garw.

Ceir golygfeydd gwych o ben y Gop, o dŵr Blackpool i Eryri. Yn ôl y chwedl mae cysylltiadau rhwng y garnedd Oes yr Efydd (14 metr o uchder a 100 metr o led) sydd ar y copa â bedd y Frenhines Buddug, ond ni ddaeth unrhyw dystiolaeth o gladdu yn dilyn cloddio archeolegol. Y tu isaf i'r copa, mae ogof fechan ble darganfuwyd gweddillion 14 o bobl yr oes Neolithig a gladdwyd ar eu cwrwcd.

Anheddiad hynafol yw Gwaenysgor. Mae Eglwys y Santes Fair Magdalen o'r 12g yn sefyll ar safle crefyddol cyn-Rufeinig, a ddynodir gan y fynwent gron.

The Walk

1. With your back to the church turn L and walk along road. Take first L along lane, before lodge on R. Turn L by finger post, signed Pennant Walk, thro' gate onto path (can be muddy). Continue along path thro' 3 more small gates, passing large pond on L and crossing stream. Where path enters field continue ahead following RH boundary. Go thro' gate then turn L on path, following LH field edge.
2. Go thro' gate at end and immediate R, crossing stile into field (ignore marker ahead to road). Walk along RHS of field to farm. Go thro' gate into farmyard. Turn R towards farmhouse, then L thro' gate beside old barn. (Farmhouse on R). Follow path thro' gate into field. Walk up field diagonally R heading for gate and waymarkers in corner. Thro' gate onto sunken path and follow path uphill. At top of lane turn L onto drive with Mannog Appaloosa stud on R.
3. At track junction turn R, signed Pennant walk, up drive of white cottage, Garreg Ucha.

Follow path to L of cottage and continue to woodland edge. Cross stile and after 10m cross 2nd stile L into woodland. Continue ahead on bulldozed track thro' to woodland edge. At path junction continue ahead over stile into field (but first detour R 200m up track to the Pharos). Walk diagonally down L across 2 fields, crossing stile between fields. Cross stone stile onto road.

4. Turn L along road, R at T-junction (look for Maen Achwyfan on LHS in field) then turn R again, signed Whitford. Just past cottage on L, turn L onto track and continue for 500m. Bear R where track forks, then with gate ahead turn R, signed Pennant Trail, along narrower path with wall/ fence on LHS. Continue ahead as path narrows greatly, walking between two hedgerows. At small path crossroads continue downhill, following old stone wall on R. Near bottom of hill bear R and continue past cottage on L. Go thro' gateway and along cottage drive to gate onto road.

5. Turn R along road. Take first R, after 40m, along drive of Pentre Ffynnon Farm. Pass farm on R and continue on obvious track between hedges to gate. Enter large field and follow marker arrows, along a row of oaks, to white metal gate onto road. Turn L along road. At road junction, with large tree in middle, take L fork.

6. At farm buildings on R, cross road following Pennant walk sign. Go thro' white gate past metal barns, then continue ahead passing old tithe barn on R. Continue on path between 2 fields. At woodland edge turn L thro' gate, skirting woodland on R. Ignore path joining L at 2 gates and go thro' gate at end of path, skirting woodland on R, ignoring path joining on L. Go thro' gate at end of path and cross large field, through a dip, heading for waymarker post on drive. Turn R along drive to reach lodge. At lodge turn L along road. Walk back to Whitford village.

Chwitffordd

Thomas Pennant, 18th century zoologist and travel writer, was born at Downing, near Whitford. His 'Tour in Wales' popularised North Wales, setting a trend for wealthy young Englishmen to tour the Welsh mountains. He is buried in Whitford church.

The Pharos

This round stone structure is reputedly a Roman lighthouse built to help ships navigating up and down the Dee Estuary. Others think it is a 17th century watchtower, built to give warning of pirate raids!

Maen Achwyfan 'Lamentation Stone'

This carved stone dates from the 10th century. Its function is uncertain. It may have been used for preaching or as a sanctuary stone. Others suggest it was a slaughter monument as many bones and skulls have been found closeby.

Ganed Thomas Pennant – swŷolegydd ac awdur llyfrau teithio yn yr 18 ganrif – yn Downing, ger Chwitffordd. Bu ei lyfr 'Tour in Wales' yn gyfrwng i wneud Gogledd Cymru'n lle ffasiynol ar gyfer Saeson oedd am ymweld â'r mynyddoedd. Claddwyd yn Eglwys Chwitffordd.

16. Ruthin Craft Centre

www.ruthincraftcentre.org.uk Tel: 01824 704774 Postcode: LL15 1BB

The award-winning craft centre is a dynamic zinc and cast-stone building with undulating roofs to echo the surrounding Clwydian hills.

It has three galleries, six artist studios, a retail gallery, education and residency workshops, a tourist information gateway and a café with courtyard terrace.

How to get there (15 miles and half an hour from Gwenvoldy):

Go down the hill to the Afonwen craft centre and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). The Craft Centre is opposite Tesco near the roundabout at the east end of the town.

17. Llechwedd Slate Caverns

www.llechwedd-slate-caverns.co.uk Tel: 01766 830306 Postcode: LL41 3NB

Llechwedd Slate Caverns of Blaenau Ffestiniog is part of a living, working slate mine that has been active since 1836.

There are 2 spectacular underground tours to explore the underground world of the Victorian Slate Miner. You go deep inside the Welsh mountains, but the temperature in the mine is about 54F throughout the year, making the caverns ideal for your family day out come rain or shine.

How to get there (40 miles and an hour from GwenoIdy):

Go down the hill to the Afonwen craft centre and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Take the A543 across the Denbigh Moors, join the A5 towards Betws-y-Coed, then turn left onto the A470 to Blaenau Ffestiniog.

18. Trefriw Woollen Mill

www.t-w-m.co.uk Tel: 01492 640462 Postcode: LL27 0NQ

Trefriw Woollen Mills is a manufacturer of traditional Welsh bedspreads/blankets, tweeds and travelling rugs. Welsh tapestry is made into cushions, dinner sets, shoulder bags and purses. Tweed is tailored into hats, caps, jackets, capes, ruanas and skirts. Visitors can see the weaving and hydro-electric turbines which generate the mill's electricity (Mon - Fri all year). Additional machinery can be viewed in the summer. Products manufactured at the mills are available in the shop, together with pure wool knitwear, accessories and sheepskin products.

How to get there (40 miles and an hour from Gwenoldy):

Go through Caerwys to the A55 and turn left towards Conwy. Near Llandudno turn left on the A470 to LLanrwst. Turn right on B5106 to Trefriw.

19. Chester

www.visitchester.com Tel for information: 01244 400007

Unless you just want to benefit from Chester's excellent shopping opportunities, it is worth planning your visit in some detail. There are many things designed for visitors, with general walking tours and some with a Roman emphasis on offer. It has a cathedral, the marvellous Grosvenor Museum, and many public buildings to see. It has a city centre horseracing course and a river, the Dee, which flows through the city offering boat cruises. There are many excellent pubs and restaurants.

How to get there (26 miles and 35 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Drive through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and travel east. There are many ways into Chester, four of which offer a park-and-ride facility to compensate for the fact that parking in the city is expensive and can be difficult. We usually follow the A55 left when the road ahead becomes the A494 and then take the A483 towards Chester. There is a park and ride at CH4 9DE on the A494 with buses every 10 minutes (peak) and 15 minutes (off-peak).

20. Llandudno

www.llandudno.com Tel for tourist information: 01492 577577

Llandudno is Wales's largest resort, uniquely situated between the Great and Little Ormes with two wonderful beaches, the award winning North Shore and the quiet, sand duned West Shore. Llandudno has kept its Victorian and Edwardian elegance and splendour, despite its modern attractions.

During the Victorian era, roads on the Great Orme were still fairly primitive and the steep slopes prevented all but the most sure footed from reaching the summit. Llandudno was fast becoming a very popular tourist resort, so it wasn't long before local businessmen latched on to the idea of a cable tramway. A little over 15 months after construction work started at the bottom of the Orme, the line was declared safe by the Board of Trade. On 31st July 1902 the first car moved off from Victoria Station, to the sound of the town band playing "God save the King".

Suddenly, Llandudno's Mountain did not seem quite so big and inhospitable as it once had. Now people of all ages and physical abilities could enjoy the rugged scenery, fascinating wildlife, and spectacular views. The Great Orme had gone public! Another unusual way of reaching the top was added in 1969. A Cabin Lift, which runs from the ornamental gardens known as Happy Valley, is the longest in Great Britain. The leisurely ride gives passengers a unique opportunity of enjoying breathtaking aerial views without actually flying!

How to get there (29 miles and 40 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and drive west towards Conwy. Take the A470 into Llandudno.

21. Park Hall

www.parkhallfarm.co.uk Tel: 01691 671123 Postcode: SY11 4AS

Park Hall near Oswestry in Shropshire is one of the region's most exciting all-weather family visitor attractions, and judged by many of our visitors to be well worth the drive from Gwenoldy. With regular hands-on animal activities, two massive indoor playbarns and lots of outdoor play and driving activities, there is never a dull moment for the children. At a more sedate pace, there are museums, exhibitions and beautiful surrounding countryside.

How to get there (34 miles and an hour from Gwenoldy):

Turn right at the bottom of the hill and take the A541 through Mold and towards Wrexham. Take the A483 and the A5 towards Oswestry and Shrewsbury. Just before Oswestry, follow local signs to Park Hall.

22. Chester Zoo

www.chesterzoo.org Tel: 01244 380280 Postcode: CH2 1LH

Every visit to Chester Zoo is a unique and exciting experience. Arguably the UK's number one Zoo, close to the historic city of Chester, it is set in 110 acres of award-winning gardens. In this spectacular setting are over 7000 animals – more than 400 species of rare, exotic and endangered wildlife. The zoo provides excellent welfare for the animals and an engaging experience for its 1.4 million annual visitors.

Chester Zoo's gardens are deservedly famous and provide a glorious backdrop to the animals. With plants from around the world, the gardens reflect the natural habitats of some of the most exotic species.

Play areas are spread around the Zoo to give children the chance to burn off some of their energy.

How to get there (27 miles and 35 minutes from Gwenoldy):

For satnav the postcode for the zoo is CH2 1EU. Go to junction 31 on the A55 and turn east towards Chester. Follow the A55 until it becomes the A494. Just before the start of the M56, take the sliproad left onto the A5117, then turn right onto the A41 and follow local signs to the zoo.

For adults, Bodafon Farm Park offers a place to let your kids run wild while you relax with a nice cup of tea or coffee and put your feet up in our scenic surroundings. You can take a walk around our birds of prey area or browse our art gallery and arts and crafts shop.

How to get there (29 miles and 40 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and travel west towards Conwy. After 20 miles take the A470 towards Llandudno and follow local signs to Penrhyn-side and the farm park.

24. Anglesey Sea Zoo

www.angleseyseazoo.co.uk Tel: 01248 430411 Postcode: LL61 6TQ

This is the largest aquarium in Wales, with over 150 native species on show.

With daily talks and feeds throughout the school holidays, and some days even a diver under water, there's always something interesting going on.

How to get there (50 miles and an hour and 5 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55. Drive west past Conwy and Anglesey and cross the Menai Straits. Take the A5 briefly, then the A4080 and follow local signs.

25. Blue Planet Aquarium

www.blueplanetaquarium.com Tel: 0151 357 8804 Postcode: CH65 9LF

At the heart of the aquarium is the Aquatunnel, one of the longest underwater tunnels in the world at 70 metres. A moving walkway takes you on a spectacular underwater safari. Everywhere you look you'll find amazing tropical fish and awesome sharks staring back at you.

The otter enclosure is one of the largest in the UK and is home to our Asian Short Clawed and Canadian otters.

How to get there (26 miles and 35 minutes from Gwernoldy):

Drive through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and turn east towards Chester. Via the A494 take the A5117 before the M56 and follow local signs to Ellesmere Port and Blue Planet.

26. Talacre beach

Postcode: CH8 9RD

Talacre is well known for its sand dunes and long, flat beach stretching westwards to Prestatyn and Rhyl. It has a disused lighthouse and, in the dunes, a Site of Special Scientific interest where natterjack toads live and breed. Drive past the parade of shops and onto the beach approach for free parking.

How to get there (11 miles and 20 minutes from Gwenvoldy):

Go straight across the A55 at junction 31 north of Caerwys and take the left turn at the roundabout towards Prestatyn (A5151). Follow local signs to the right to Llanasa, then to Gwespyr and Talacre.

27. Newborough Warren and Llanddwyn Island National Nature Reserve

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Newborough_Warren Postcode: LL61 6RS

Newborough Warren is a wild place with huge open beaches, sand dunes and pine woods. You will have fabulous views across to Snowdonia and may see ravens flying over the sea. It is a wonderful place for a walk in all seasons and a good bathing beach in the summer. If you wish, you may extend your walk to take in parts of the pine forest.

There is a charge for parking cars.

How to get there (55 miles and an hour and a quarter from GwenoIdy):

Travel west along the A55 in the direction of Conwy. Follow signs to Bangor, then Anglesey and cross the bridge over the Menai Straits. Take the A4080 to the south-west corner of the island.

28. Rhos on Sea beach

Postcode: LL28 4

There are several aspects to Rhos-on-Sea beach. The stretch of beach that sits between the village shops and the harbour is probably the most popular section in the summer months. Access to the sand and shingle beach is via steps from the promenade or a ramp at the Rhos Point end of the beach. The stone breakwater that forms the harbour wall creates a pleasant sheltered area popular for bathing and paddling. But if lazing on the beach is not your thing then head a few hundred yards to the west around Rhos Point to the mussel beds for a wide variety of seabirds including oyster-catchers, dunlins, cormorants and many more. Walk a few hundred yards in the other direction towards Colwyn Bay and there are wide expanses of sand and plenty to explore as the tide recedes.

How to get there (24 miles and 35 minutes from Gwenoldy):

From junction 31 of the A55 travel west in the direction of Conwy. Follow local signs to Colwyn Bay and Rhos on Sea.

29. Llandudno

www.llandudno.com

Llandudno is a Victorian seaside resort on a curve of bay sheltered by the Great Orme to the west and the Little Orme to the east. Beautiful Victorian buildings look out over a wide promenade and sandy beaches.

The Pier is one of Llandudno's greatest attractions. It is the longest pier in Wales and full of attractions and amusements for children. This really is the traditional seaside beach with donkey rides and a Punch and Judy show which has been presented by the same family since 1860.

How to get there (30 miles and 45 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Travel west along the A55 in the direction of Conwy. Follow signs to Llandudno.

30. Crosby Beach and Another Place

www.sefton.gov.uk/default.aspx?page=6216 Postcode: L23 8

Another Place consists of 100 cast-iron, life-size figures created by the sculptor Antony Gormley, spread out along three kilometers of the foreshore, stretching almost one kilometre out to sea. Contractors spent three weeks lifting the figures into place and driving them into the beach on the metre-high foundation piles.

The Another Place figures - each one weighing 650 kilos - are made from casts of the artist's own body and are shown at different stages of rising out of the sand, all of them looking out to sea, staring at the horizon in silent expectation. The work is seen as a poetic response to the individual and universal sentiments associated with emigration - sadness at leaving, but the hope of a new future in another place.

How to get there (50 miles and an hour and 20 minutes from Gwensoldy):

Drive through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and turn east towards Chester. Via the A494 and the A550, join the M53 towards Liverpool, going through the Mersey Tunnel. Take the A5036 along the coast and follow local signs to Crosby and Another Place.

31. Rhuddlan Castle

www.rhyl.com/rhuddlan.html Tel: 01745 590777 Postcode: LL18 5AD

Rhuddlan may not be as well known as some other north Wales castles, yet it has much in common with its illustrious neighbours.

Like Caernarfon and Conwy, it was built as one of the 'iron ring' of fortresses by the English monarch, Edward I, in his late 13th century campaigns against the Welsh.

Rhuddlan's massive twin-towered Gatehouse (heralding the inner core of a characteristic concentric 'walls within walls' system of defences) immediately catches the eye.

But possibly the most impressive engineering achievement of the castle builders can be seen alongside the fortress. Although not immediately apparent to today's visitors, Rhuddlan (almost 3 miles from the coast) was a castle that remained faithful to the Edwardian principle of seaborne access.

The clue lies in the unnaturally straight course of the River Clwyd alongside, which was canalised to allow provision of the castle by ship, a truly mammoth task involving 1,800 ditchers. Remains of a defended river gate still exist in the outer ring of walls, overlooked by the towers of the powerful diamond-shaped inner ward.

Open from the end of March to the end of October.

How to get there (14 miles and 20 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Travel west along the A55 in the direction of Conwy. Take the A525 towards Rhyl and follow local signs to Rhuddlan.

32. Conwy Castle

www.conwy.com Tel: 01492 592358 Postcode: LL32 8LD

Words cannot do justice to Conwy Castle. The best, simple description is found in the guidebook published by CADW, the Welsh Historic Trust, which states: "Conwy is by any standards one of the great fortresses of medieval Europe." Conwy along with Harlech is probably the most impressive of all the Welsh castles. Both were designed by Edward I's master castle builder, James of St. George, and while Harlech has a more storied past, Conwy's eight massive towers and high curtain wall are more impressive than those at Harlech.

Unlike Harlech however, Conwy Castle and town are surrounded by a well-preserved wall lending an additional sense of strength to the site. A similar town wall exists at Caernarfon Castle, but is far less complete and gets lost in the modern town. By contrast, Conwy's well-preserved wall helps the town maintain a medieval character lost by other Welsh castle-towns over the years. Construction of Conwy began in 1283. The castle was an important part of King Edward I's plan of surrounding Wales in "an iron ring of castles" to subdue the rebellious population. The highly defensible wall Edward built around the town was intended to protect the English colony planted at Conwy. The native Welsh population were violently opposed to English occupation of their homeland.

Today, Conwy is approached from the east via the A55 through North Wales. Approaching Conwy, the castle seems to suddenly rise out of the hills. The majestic old suspension bridge connecting the castle with the main peninsula, depicted in many representations of the castle over the years, still guards the main approach to the castle.

How to get there (27 miles and 40 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys and turn west (signposted Conwy) at junction 31 of the A55.

33. Beaumaris Castle

www.castlewales.com/beamar.html Tel: 01248 810361 Postcode: LL85 8AP

Beaumaris, begun in 1295, was the last and largest of the castles to be built by King Edward I in Wales. Raised on an entirely new site, without earlier buildings to fetter its designer's creative genius, it is possibly the most sophisticated example of medieval military architecture in Britain.

This is undoubtedly the ultimate "concentric" castle, built with an almost geometric symmetry. Conceived as an integral whole, a high inner ring of defences is surrounded by a lower outer circuit of walls, combining an almost unprecedented level of strength and firepower. Before the age of cannon, the attacker would surely have been faced with an impregnable fortress. Yet, ironically, the work of construction was never fully completed, and the castle saw little action apart from the Civil War in the 17th century.

How to get there (50 miles and an hour and 5 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and drive west past Conwy and Bagor, following signs to Anglesey. After crossing the Menai Straits, take the A5025 to Beaumaris.

34. Caernarfon Castle

www.caernarfon.com Tel: 01286 677617 Postcode: LL55 2AY

Mighty Caernarfon is possibly the most famous of Wales's castles. Its sheer scale and commanding presence easily set it apart from the rest, and to this day, still trumpet in no uncertain terms the intention of its builder Edward I. Begun in 1283 as the definitive chapter in his conquest of Wales, Caernarfon was constructed not only as a military stronghold but also as a seat of government and royal palace.

History comes alive at Caernarfon in so many ways - along the lofty wall walks, beneath the twin-towered gatehouse and within imaginative exhibitions located within the towers. The castle also houses the Regimental Museum of the Royal Welch Fusiliers, Wales's oldest regiment. Caernarfon's position of pre-eminence in historic rankings is recognized in its status as a World Heritage inscribed site.

How to get there (57 miles and an hour and 15 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and travel west past Conwy and Bangor. Turn onto the A487 to Caernarfon.

35. Denbigh Castle

www.denbigh.com/castle.html Tel: 01443 336000 Postcode: LL16 3NB

The striking ruins of Denbigh Castle, crowning a steep hill above the town, enjoy commanding views of the pastoral Vale of Clwyd and the round-backed hills of the Clwydian range.

The castle's finest feature is its striking triple-towered Great Gatehouse bearing the unmistakable stamp of Master James of St George, the architectural genius responsible for all of Edward's major North Wales castles.

Also of great interest are the town walls, almost two-thirds of a mile long. The eastern section, defended by the Countess Tower and Goblin Tower, is particularly fine.

How to get there (8 miles and 15 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go down the hill and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Follow signs to the town centre, then to the Castle.

36. Ffestiniog and Welsh Highland Railways

www.festrail.co.uk Tel: 01766 516000

The Ffestiniog Railway is the oldest railway company in the World still running trains, being founded by Act of Parliament in 1832. The railway was built as a gravity and horse drawn line to transport slate from the quarries in the mountains around Blaenau Ffestiniog. As the slate industry flourished, so did the railway and the town of Porthmadog. Slates from Blaenau Ffestiniog were exported all over the globe - many in ships built in Porthmadog.

The Welsh Highland Railway is North Wales' newest - and the UK's longest - heritage railway and is now open throughout from Caernarfon to the Ffestiniog Railway's Harbour Station in Porthmadog. The two lines offer visitors a journey across Snowdonia more than 40 miles in length.

Welsh Highland trains cross the width of the Snowdonia National Park, past the foot of Snowdon and the beautiful village of Beddgelert, before travelling the length of the Aberglaslyn Pass - voted the most beautiful spot in the UK by members of the National Trust. Trains also call at Pont Croesor, alongside the RSPB's Glaslyn Osprey Centre and Nantmor, which allows walkers the option of walking through the Aberglaslyn pass in either direction and returning by train.

How to get there (49 miles and an hour and a quarter from GwenoIdy):

The station which links the two railways (whose extremities are at Caernarfon and Blaenau Ffestiniog) is Porthmadog.

Turn west along the A55 in the direction of Conwy. Take the A470 south to Betws-y-Coed, then the A5, B4407, B4391, A470 and A487 to Porthmadog (LL49 9DY).

37. Snowdon Mountain Railway

www.snowdonrailway.com Tel: 0844 493 8120 Postcode: LL55 4TY

The railway takes you almost to the summit of Snowdon, the highest peak in Wales. The views during the journey, and from the new visitor centre at the summit, can be awe-inspiring.

How to get there (49 miles and an hour from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 on the A55 and travel west almost to Bangor. Take the A5 briefly, then the A4244 and A4086 to Llanberis.

38. Great Orme Tramway

www.greatormetramway.co.uk Tel: 01492 879306 Postcode: LL30 2NB

This is Great Britain's only remaining cable operated street tramway and one of only three surviving in the world. Operation of the tramway differs from the famous and unique San Francisco system in that, like the Lisbon lines, it is a street funicular, where the cars are permanently fixed to the cable and are stopped and started by stopping and starting the cable.

The service takes you from close to the centre of Llandudno up onto the Great Orme above the town.

How to get there (29 miles and 40 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and drive west towards Conwy. Take the A470 into Llandudno.

39. Llangollen

www.llangollen-railway.co.uk Tel: 01978 860979 Postcode: LL20 8SN

Llangollen Railway is a mainly steam-hauled Heritage Railway Line starting at Llangollen Station located beside the Dee River Bridge in Llangollen Town, and continuing for 7½ miles upstream, following the River Dee to the village of Carrog.

The Railway remains close to the waters of the river for most of its length, On the north bank at Llangollen Station, the river is crossed on to the south bank via the Dee Bridge, approximately one mile upstream from Llangollen.

How to get there (24 miles and 40 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go down the hill and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). Take the A525 and the A542 over the Horseshoe Pass to Llangollen.

40. Talyllyn

www.talyllyn.co.uk Tel: 01654 710472 Postcode: LL36 9EY

The Talyllyn Railway is a historic narrow-gauge steam railway, set in the beautiful Mid-Wales countryside. Running from Tywyn to Abergynolwyn and Nant Gwernol, the line passes the delightful Dolgoch Falls and there are excellent forest walks at Nant Gwernol.

Built on a gauge of 2 feet 3 inches, the Talyllyn Railway is one of a number of narrow-gauge lines in north and mid Wales built in the 19th century to carry slate, in the Talyllyn's case from the Bryn Eglwys quarries near Abergynolwyn. Opened in 1865, the line runs the seven and a quarter miles from Tywyn (on the Cardigan Bay coast) to Nant Gwernol, from where a series of horse-drawn tramways continued into the mountains. The slate traffic ceased in 1946 following a serious rock fall in the quarry. The restored, volunteer-staffed railway opened in 1951. The Reverend W Awdry, author of the Thomas the Tank Engine books, was an early volunteer.

How to get there (67 miles and an hour and 40 minutes from Gwenoldy):

This is quite a long but very spectacular drive, most of it through the Snowdonia National Park. Turn left at the bottom of the hill and drive through Denbigh and Bala. Follow the A494, B4416, A470, A487, B4405 and A493 to Tywyn on the west Wales coast.

41. Bodnant Gardens

www.bodnantgarden.co.uk Tel: 01492 650460 Postcode: LL28 5RE

Bodnant Garden is one of the most beautiful gardens in the UK, spanning some 80 acres and is situated above the River Conwy on ground sloping towards the west and looking across the valley towards the Snowdonia range.

The Garden has two parts. The upper garden around Bodnant Hall consists of the terraced gardens and informal lawns shaded by trees. The lower portion, known as the "Dell" is formed by the valley of the River Hiraethlyn and contains the Wild garden.

An endeavour has been made at Bodnant Garden to grow a wide range of interesting and beautiful plants from all over the world, particularly China, North America, Europe and Japan that are suited to the Welsh climate and soil. As well as this, care has been taken to place the plants in such a way that they enhance each other and contribute to the general beauty of the garden throughout the seasons.

The Garden will interest amateur and professional gardeners, artists, photographers and families alike.

How to get there (28 miles and 35 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go down the hill and cross the A541 to go through Caerwys to the A55. Turn west and travel almost to Conwy before turning south on the A470. Follow local signs to Bodnant Gardens.

42. Plas Newydd Country House and Gardens

www.nationaltrust.org.uk/main/w-plasnewydd Tel: 01248 715272 Postcode: LL61 6DQ

Plas Newydd, the ancestral home of the Marquess of Anglesey, bears witness to a turbulent history: noble beginnings during Henry VIII's reign, triumphant success at Waterloo, bankruptcy at the turn of the 20th century and the revival of the family fortunes in the 1930s. The house is famous for its association with Rex Whistler, and contains his exquisite romantic mural and the largest exhibition of his works. Located on the Menai Straits, with glorious views across Snowdonia, you can stroll through an Australasian arboretum, Italianate summer terrace or follow a woodland path leading to the marine walk along the Straits.

How to get there (46 miles and an hour from GwenoIdy):

From junction 31 on the A55, drive west past Conwy and Bangor and cross the straits to Anglesey. Follow the A5 briefly, then the A4080 to Plas Newydd.

43. Bodelwyddan Castle

www.bodelwyddan-castle.co.uk Tel: 01745 584060 Postcode: LL18 5UY

Bodelwyddan Castle is situated in Denbighshire, North Wales. Set in 260 acres of magnificent parkland, the Castle is a partner of the National Portrait Gallery and is open to the public most days throughout the year.

As well as being a historic house and museum with a free audio tour available, the Castle also boasts large areas of formal garden and natural woodland. A particular feature is the area of practice trenches dating from the First World War. There is a children's play area.

The Castle is run by an independent charitable trust with the aim of providing education and public services.

How to get there (12 miles and 20 minutes from GwenoIdy):

Go through Caewys to junction 31 of the A55 and turn left towards Conwy. You will see the castle on your left opposite the 'marble' church by an exit from the A55.

www.caffiflorence.co.uk (excellent café/restaurant at Loggerheads)

Loggerheads Country Park is a popular visitor destination, attracting over 100,000 visitors every year. The Countryside Centre gives visitors an insight into the history and life within the Park and provides a wealth of information and an excellent learning opportunity.

Loggerheads Country Park is an established Rural Country Park set in a limestone valley in the Clwydian Range Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. It encompasses a mining and tourism history. The Park is also managed for conservation, with SSSI (Site of Special Scientific Interest) designation and rich and varied natural habitats.

The Discovery Trail gets visitors out & about in the park. They can see evidence of the history for themselves, along with abundant wildlife. Visitors also get the chance to become a Trail Detective and collect the secret symbols.

It offers woodland, riverside and cliff top experiences - a fantastic day out for all the family.

How to get there (9 miles and 15 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Turn right towards Mold at the bottom of the hill. After 4 miles take the right turn signposted to Cilcain. Keep straight on through the village to join the A494 (the Mold to Ruthin road) near local signposts to Loggerheads Country Park.

45. Chirk Castle

www.nationaltrust.org.uk/main/w-chirkcastle Tel: 01691 777701 Postcode: LL14 5AF

Completed in 1310, Chirk is the last Welsh castle from the reign of Edward I still lived in today. Features from its 700 years include the medieval tower and dungeon, 17th-century Long Gallery, grand 18th-century state apartments, servants' hall and historic laundry. The award-winning gardens contain clipped yews, herbaceous borders, shrub and rock gardens. A terrace with stunning views looks out over the Cheshire and Shropshire plains. The parkland provides a habitat for rare invertebrates, wild flowers and contains many mature trees and also some splendid wrought-iron gates, made in 1719 by the Davies brothers.

How to get there (30 miles and 50 minutes from Gwenoldy):

Go down the hill and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). Take the A525 and the A542 over the Horseshoe Pass to Llangollen. Leave Llangollen on Hill Street (off the A5). At Pontfadog join the B4500 and follow signs to Chirk Castle.

46. Erddig

<http://www.nationaltrust.org.uk/main/w-erddig> Tel: 01978 355314 Postcode: LL13 0YT

Described as 'the jewel in the crown of Welsh country houses', Erddig is a fascinating yet unpretentious early 18th-century country house which reflects a gentry family's 250 years of upstairs-downstairs life.

The extensive downstairs area contains Erddig's unique collection of servants' portraits, while the upstairs rooms are an amazing treasure trove of fine furniture, textiles and wallpapers.

Outside, an impressive range of outbuildings includes stables, a smithy, a joiners' shop and a sawmill. There is a superb 18th century formal garden and a landscaped park. The estate offers walks, and bicycle and carriage rides.

How to get there (25 miles and 45 minutes from Gwenvoldy):

Go down the hill and turn right to take the A541 to Mold nad towards Wrexham. Take the A483 towards Oswestry and follow local signs to Erddig.

47. Pontcysyllte Aqueduct

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pontcysyllte_Aqueduct

Sited on the Llangollen canal, the Pontcysyllte aqueduct is one of only 3 World Heritage Sites in Wales (there are 28 in the UK). A footpath runs alongside the canal over the aqueduct.

Built by Thomas Telford and William Jessop, the aqueduct is 1,007 ft (307 m) long, 11 ft (3.4 m) wide and 5.25 ft (1.60 m) deep. It consists of a cast iron trough supported 126 ft (38 m) above the river on iron arched ribs carried on nineteen hollow masonry piers (pillars). Each span is 53 ft (16 m) wide.

How to get there (28 miles and 55 minutes by car from Gwenvoldy):

Go down the hill and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). Take the A525 and the A542 over the Horseshoe Pass to Llangollen. Drive east to the village of Trevor on the A539.

48. Gladstone's Library (formerly St Deiniol's Library)

<http://www.st-deiniols.com> Tel: 01244 532350 Postcode: CH5 3DF

Gladstone's Library is one of a kind - a residential library and meeting place dedicated to dialogue, debate and learning for open-minded individuals and groups who are looking to explore pressing questions and to pursue study and research in an age of distraction and easy solutions.

Access to the collection is free of charge but anyone wishing to use the Library on a non-residential basis should complete an application form and provide two forms of ID, one with a recent photograph and one (dated within the last three months) showing proof of address. This allows use of the collection for reference purposes only. The Reading Rooms are open to non-residents from Monday-Saturday inclusive from 9.00 am to 6.00 pm.

The Coffee Shop, Food for Thought, has recently been refurbished and can now seat up to sixty people.

It is open as follows: Monday to Friday: 10.00 am to 4.00 pm; Saturday and Sunday: 10.00 am to 2.00pm. Lunch is served daily from 12 noon to 2.00 pm.

How to get there (20 miles and half an hour by car from Gwenoldy):

Go through Caerwys to the A55 and drive east towards Chester. Take the slip road left to stay on the A55 when the road ahead becomes the A494. Take the A550 left to Hawarden and follow local signs.

49. Valle Crucis Abbey

<http://www.llangollen.com/valle.html> Tel: 01978 860326 Postcode: LL20 8DD

The evocative ruins of Valle Crucis lie in green fields beneath Llangollen's steep sided mountains. In medieval times, this was a remote spot (ideal for austere Cistercian monks, who deliberately sought out wild and lonely places). Their Abbey, founded in the 13th century and added to a century later, has fared better than many of its contemporaries against the ravages of time, history and neglect.

Many original features remain, including the glorious west front complete with an elaborate, richly carved doorway, beautiful rose window and 14th century inscription 'Abbot Adams carried out this work; may he rest in peace. Amen'.

Other well preserved features include the east end of the Abbey (which overlooks the monks' original fishpond) and lovely Chapter House with its striking rib-vaulted roof. But Valle Crucis is not just a lesson in medieval ecclesiastical architecture.

A visit to this fascinating site evokes the lives of the Cistercian monks - successful sheep farmers and enthusiastic supporters of Welsh culture as well as devout men of religion.

Valle Crucis, the 'Valley of the Cross', is named after Eliseg's Pillar, a 9th century Christian memorial cross which stands nearby.

How to get there (28 miles and 40 minutes by car from Gwenvoldy):

Go down the hill and turn left on the A541 towards Denbigh. Just after the village of Bodfari turn left on the B5429 to take the road along the west side of the Clwydian Hills to Ruthin (follow local signposts). Take the A525 and the A542 over the Horseshoe Pass towards Llangollen.

50. Sir Henry Jones Museum

www.sirhenryjones-museums.org Tel: 01745 860630 Postcode: LL22 8PR

Situated in the beautiful village of Llangernyw, also famous for the huge, ancient yew tree in St Dilgain's Churchyard, this small museum is the house where Henry Jones grew up. Like most other children in the late 19th century, Henry Jones left school at 12 and went to work. But unlike others, Henry was encouraged to study. Working with his father, the village shoemaker, during the day and 'working at my books ... throughout the small hours and till morning came', he won a scholarship to train as a teacher. Continuing his studies, he eventually became Professor of Moral Philosophy at Glasgow University.

How to get there (28 miles and 55 minutes by car from Gwenoldy):

Drive through Caerwys to junction 31 of the A55 and turn left towards Conwy. At Bodelwyddan, turn left up the hill and then right to take the B5381. Turn left onto the A548 to Llangernyw.
